1,000 Negro Children to Demonstrate

By DON MCKEE
BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—More than 1,000 Negro children and teen-agers stood ready today to join demonstrations in a whole-sale drive to crack racial barriers. The pupils skipped classes and assembled at a church waiting for word on efforts to negotiate with white merchants about segregated seating and hiring policies. Several hundred pupils were jailed Thursday in a massive demonstration.

"There might be thousands arrested because the students are ready and there are numerous adults," said Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the movement.

At a news conference King said he had been called by Justice Department officials in Washington. He said the federal government was concerned about the situation.

At the same time, it was learned that Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers of Alabama arrived Thursday night to confer with law enforcement officials and to confer by phone with the Justice Department.

King said the movement decided Thursday to begin an all-out campaign.

"Demonstrations will continue on a large scale," King said. "They will continue on a day-to-day basis."

Conservative Leaders Hit by Churchill

By TOM OCHILTREE
LONDON (AP)—In the twilight of his political career, Sir Winston Churchill aimed a broadside at critics of the ruling Conservatives Friday. He declared Britain must keep its nuclear deterrent, not seek shelter behind the atomic power of its friends.

"Without our nuclear shield, our defense is forever committed to our friends, and our counsel in the alliance, which have for so long been those of moderation and peace, would diminish greatly in weight," he said in a statement.

"I do not advocate the spreading of nuclear arms. But this country has an unequalled record of responsibility in international affairs. These deadly weapons are safer in our hands than in any other."

Only Wednesday the statesman announced he had decided not to seek re-election to the House of Commons. But now he plunged into the political storm over British nuclear weapons with all his old vigor.

The opposition Laborites and the Liberals believe Britain is wasting its resources trying to keep up its dues in the atomic club with the United States, the Soviet Union and France.

But in his message to the annual meeting of the Primrose League, Churchill said the abandonment of nuclear arms would condemn Britain to a course holding great perils.

The Primrose League is an organization dedicated to Conservative party ideals and a strong Britain. The old warrior-statesman, 88, the league's grand master, was not present at the session, held near the houses of Parliament.

Churchill warned that if Britain gave up its nuclear deterrent, "There will be no second chance."

He said nuclear policy "is one of the great issues the country will have to decide this year or next."

This was a reference to Britain's national election due before October, 1964. Churchill will not sit in the House of Commons then because his injury in a fall last year makes it difficult for him to move about.

Engineers Corps to Rent Dredge
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Bids will be opened May 21 by Army Engineers on rental of a dredge to move 5.1 million cubic yards of sand for construction of a $2 million embankment across a cut-off channel that flows between the Arkansas and White Rivers in Desha County. Engineers estimated it would take 210 days to construct the embankment, 7,200 feet long and 52 feet high.

Weather

Partly cloudy to cloudy and warmer today and tonight with thunderstorms today.

Gen. Daugherty at Ft. Chaffee

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Daugherty, commanding general of the 45th Infantry Division, an Oklahoma National Guard Unit, met with 19 other division officers Tuesday at Ft. Chaffee to discuss preparations for summer training exercises beginning Aug. 3.

Some 8,000 men from the 45th and about 7,000 other reservists and National Guardsmen will receive training at Chaffee beginning in June and continuing through late August.

State Appeal Denied by High Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas was denied today a Supreme Court review of a decision requiring a new trial for Clarence Stewart Jr., Negro under death sentence in the robbery-slaying of William N. Caldwell in Pulaski County, Ark.

U.S. District Judge Gordon E. Roung in Little Rock ordered a new trial, or freedom if a new trial is not held, on the ground that Negroes were systematically limited in the selection of the state court jury panel. Young's decision was upheld by the 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis.

Appealing to the high tribunal to reverse the lower federal courts, Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said their actions were "clearly erroneous" because the record was "void of evidence of limitation of the number of Negroes on the panels" in the March, 1960 state court trial.

Bennett's appeal said Stewart "brutally murdered a junkyard man by fatally stabbing his victim 19 times with a hunting knife. The overwhelming evidence submitted at the trial resulted in the verdict of guilty and sentence of death."

Weekend to Be Fair, Is Forecast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Skies were generally partly cloudy over Arkansas today, but the Weather Bureau predicted a sunny, pleasant weekend for the state.

A few showers may move across the state from the west on Saturday and again Sunday, but not enough shower activity was expected to mar the weekend for outdoor enthusiasts.

Highs of 74 to 85 were predicted for this afternoon and lows tonight were expected to be in the 50s. A little warmer weather was forecast for Saturday.

Temperatures during the next five days were expected to average four to eight degrees above the normal highs of 71 north to 81 south and the normal lows of 51 north to 58 south.

The scattered weekend showers were expected to total one-fourth to three-fourths of an inch with the heavier amounts in the northern portions.

Overnight lows reported around the state this morning ranged from the high 40s to the low 60s and were generally in the 50s. Traces of rain were reported in most sections during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m.

Suggests Woman for Vice-Pres.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wife of the vice president, said in Philadelphia she thought it might be a good thing for the country to have a woman vice president. Declining to suggest a nominee, she told newsmen, "I'll leave that to the conventions."

Konosuke Matsushita, board chairman of the Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., was Japan's top income earner for the second consecutive year, the National Tax Agency announced in Tokyo. His earnings for 1962 was $1.22 million of which the tax office will collect between 70 and 75 per cent.

Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson has been named as speaker for the 118th commencement exercises June 9 at the University of Notre Dame.

Dr. Richard E. Shope, 61, virologist on the staff of the Rockefeller Institute in New York, has been named the 1963 winner of the Howard Taylor Ricketts Award of the University of Chicago. The award is given in recognition of distinguished achievements in medical science.

Jews' Ills Are Laid to Ghetto Pose

By RELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK (AP)—A University of Chicago psychologist, Dr. Bruno Bettelheim, said today the holocaust that overtook millions of Jews in Europe during World War II was, in part, a result of ghetto mentality among them.

He said there has been "a survival of ghetto thinking among present day American Jews."

Dr. Bettelheim discussed the question in a speech before the 20th anniversary conference of the American Council for Judaism.

Defining the term, he said, "A certain type of ghetto thinking is of the form of an ostrich policy, to avoid having to take action. It is a type of dehumanizing of the senses and emotions so that one will be permitted to survive."

Dr. Bettelheim was in a concentration camp.

But even before that, he said, he and many of his friends had become convinced that it was necessary to leave Europe "not yet to save our lives which were not threatened, that came much later, but to save our self-respect."

He continued, "Therefore, it was hard for me to accept that many Jews were willing to live in utter degradation to save their earthly possessions — which still seemed reasonably possible at that time — and to continue to live at the old place with one's old associations, pretending that not much had really changed."

"The only explanation I could find for such a strange denial of reality was that it was due to remnants of a ghetto mentality. This ghetto mentality, in turn, was the consequence of living for centuries in ghettos."

He has been strongly criticized by American Jews for his theory, Dr. Bettelheim said.

Boeing in Challenge on TFX Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the Boeing Co. has issued a challenge to the Pentagon: Let Boeing build four prototype TFX warplanes and test them against those of the General Dynamics Co., the winning bidder.

Such a test, Boeing President William M. Allen told the Senate Investigations subcommittee Thursday, "offers the best possible way to assure the American people that the best weapons systems are being bought at the least cost."

In fact, Allen said, he prefers a test to reversal of the Pentagon's decision and award of the contract to Boeing.

The industrialist issued the challenge while denying that Boeing's bid on the TFX was unrealistically low.

In defending the award to General Dynamics, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said he and other civilian chiefs felt Boeing's offer was unrealistically low.

Allen said Boeing's bid for development and production of the first 23 TFX planes for testing was $148 million below General Dynamics' and was based on careful calculations.

The TFX award—potentially a $6.2-billion job—envisions eventual production of 1,700 fighter-bombers, to be the fastest in the world. About 230 would be used by the Navy, the rest by the Air Force.

Billy Graham Pronounces His Girl Wed

MONTREAL, Switzerland (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham today pronounced his eldest daughter Virginia the wife of Stephan Tchividjian, 23, one of his most active Swiss converts.

In a picturesque 500-year-old church overlooking Lake Geneva, Graham officiated at the wedding of Virginia, 17, to the son of a Swiss financier of Armenian origin.

The afternoon wedding was before 300 guests from the United States and many European countries.

Graham's associate, Cliff Barrows, Modesto, Calif., opened the ceremony to permit Graham to give Virginia away as her father before taking over the wedding as minister.

Sen. Kefauver in Hospital for Flu

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., entered Bethesda Naval Hospital Thursday.

An aide said the senator had been suffering from flu and decided "that a few days in bed" would be the best way to get rid of it.

Justice Unit Accused of News Leak

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department was accused today of leaking to the Saturday Evening Post secret grand jury testimony that was used later in a criminal indictment against society columnist Igor Cassini.

Louis Nizer, Cassini's attorney, made the accusation in a preliminary hearing for Cassini on charges of failing to register as a foreign agent.

Cassini, who wrote the Cholly Knickerbocker column for the Hearst newspapers, was indicted Feb. 3 for violation of the Foreign Agents Registration Act.

The indictment charged he shared in more than $200,000 in payments as an agent of the regime of the late Rafael Trujillo in the Dominican Republic.

Nizer, attorney and best-selling author, said the material appeared in a Jan. 19 article in the Saturday Evening Post, written by Peter Maas.

He asked District Court Judge William B. Jones to hold hearings on the charges and study whether a full-scale investigation should be held on the question of a violation of grand jury secrecy.

Kevin Moroney, a Justice Department attorney, said Maas had sworn in an affidavit that he had not received any grand jury information in the preparation of his article about Cassini.

Congo Army Chief Breaks Up Mutiny

By ROBIN MANNOCK
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The commander of the Congo's army marched alone into a seething mob of city police Friday to break up a mutiny. Demanding more pay, police had seized their own officers.

Gen. Joseph Mobutu went with three aides to Camp Lafungula, the city's largest police camp, and gave the mutineers a choice of giving up or being hauled out in trucks.

From time to time he walked into the mob and yanked out a ringleader. His aides stood back, apparently on his orders.

Army paratroopers pointing automatic weapons surrounded the compound. All but about 200 of the mutineers submitted to Mobutu's orders. He ordered them taken away in custody.

"Put them in trucks, not too many and without arms," he told his staff. "Don't beat them up."

The diehards were stripped of their underclothes and shown to a crowd of several thousand Africans outside the camp. The crowd jeered the police and cheered Mobutu.

In other parts of the city, army commandos and military gendarmes took control without resistance. Several mutineers were beaten with rifle butts.

About 3,000 police staged the mutiny, seizing the entire African staff in the City Hall as hostages and sending European workers home.

The police demanded a 25 per cent increase in pay. Under Congolese law they are forbidden to strike.

Government officials said the police demanded rises equal to the increase in the minimum wage announced recently by Premier Cyrille Adoula.

However, the police now earn well above the minimum wage. Their wages run about $100 a month.

Mobutu said the policemen had expected increases in the pay envelopes handed out Thursday.

Citizenship Is Restored Parolee

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An order of Gov. Orval E. Faubus was issued Thursday, restoring full civil and political rights to Freeman Barnett, sentenced to death in 1941 for the murder of Crittenden County deputy sheriff Charles L. Goud at Marion. Barnett's sentence was commuted to life in prison on Feb. 23, 1942, by former governor Homer Atkins.

31 Killed In Sao Paulo As Plane Crashes

By FRANK BRUTTO
SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—Officials counted 31 dead today in the crash of a Brazilian airliner that plowed into a heavily built up area but miraculously hit only an unoccupied apartment building.

At least 20,000 persons rushed to the scene, seriously hampering rescue efforts. Several were reported killed when a fire truck slammed into part of the crowd.

Despite the throng, 17 persons were snatched alive from the blazing wreckage and rushed to local hospitals. One person was missing from the 44 passengers and five crewmen aboard the two-engine Convair.

The plane plunged to earth shortly after takeoff Friday night. Witnesses said the plane, belonging to Cruzeiro do Sul, caught fire, exploded in the air and plunged to earth.

It broke up in the air and part of it rammed an apartment building under construction. It sheared off a large section of the structure and reduced it to rubble.

There were no Americans listed in the first reports of casualties.

One of those who died was James Gois Hughes, a Uruguayan citizen, who was director of General Electric in Brazil.

Other passengers were Brazilian Deputy Miguel Bahury and television comic Rena K. Consorte.

Of those hospitalized, 13 were reported to be in critical condition.

The plane was in trouble from the time it took off for Rio, 300 miles to the northeast.

The right engine was burning, said a witness, Emilton Batista, an airline employee. "I said, 'God, it's going to explode. Then it did.'"

American Got to Everest With Guide

By ALAN M. KENNEDY
KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—One American and a Sherpa guide made up the team that took Old Glory to the peak of Mt. Everest, an expedition spokesman said today.

A statement radioed from the expedition's base camp, however, still kept secret the name of the American, and the native tribesman who went with him. Sherpas live in the heights of Nepal.

The statement read by the spokesman said all the climbers and support party had returned to the base camp.

The spokesman said attempts to reach the 29,028-foot peak by two other routes were being planned. The team placed aluminum flags on the summit, the spokesman said.

The successful climb was made from the South Col, a steep-sided pass.

Plans are now going ahead for a second assault on the southeast ridge and an attempt by way of the western ridge, the spokesman said.

Two previous successful expeditions—the British in 1953 and Swiss in 1956—reached the summit from the South Col.

Chinese Communists claimed in 1960 they climbed Everest from the north and placed there a bust of Mao Tse-tung.

The spokesman said: "No evidence of previous expeditions was found at the summit."

The spokesman was reading a report radioed from the base camp.

An earlier message reported that all personnel were well.

An expedition spokesman here said he had narrowed to eight the Americans who made the first U.S. conquest of Everest Wednesday.

The names of the teams and their achievements will be released only after all planned attempts are completed.

By a process of elimination an expedition spokesman listed the eight names from the 18 Americans on the mission. The 10 others, he said, were engaged in other tasks.

The eight are: Barry C. Bishop, 30, of the National Geographic Society, Washington, D.C.; Dr. David L. Dingman, 28, Baltimore; the expedition leader, Norman Dyhrenfurth, 44, Santa Monica, Calif.; Luther G. Jerstad, 26, Eugene, Ore.; Richard Pownall, 35, Denver, Colo.; Barry W. Prather, 24, Ellensburg, Wash.; Dr. Gilbert Roberts, 28, Berkeley, Calif.; and James W. Whitaker, 32, Redmond, Wash.

Man With 6,000 Tomato Plants Is Rocky Mound Citizen, Thurman Wright

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Any home with 6,000 babies would require a volume of work on the part of the "Man of the House." Well, Thurman Wright of Rocky Mound will assure you that this is true whether they are humans or tomato plants.

Two greenhouses covering 7 of an acre on his farm are the homes for these little darlings of the hybrid variety "tuckers o." This is a greenhouse forcing tomato with the ability to "set fruit" under adverse conditions. The field types of tomatoes would not develop properly under the greenhouse conditions.

Let's follow one of these tomatoes from "seed to salad." An ounce of seed costing $25 is enough to plant the crop. On Dec. 18 the seed for the present crop were planted in flats. After four weeks they are transferred to the greenhouses. With cyprus frames, these houses have removable walls and roof of poultry netting and polyethylene. Though this plastic is quite satisfactory for protection in the winter, the hot summer sun breaks it down and it must be replaced every year.

Rain on tomatoes will cause them to crack, so the greenhouse moisture is controlled for the plants by an irrigation system which utilizes water in a nearby spring and pond. There are four water outlets in each of the two houses, and in warm weather 27,000 gallons of water are used in a week.

If the same number of plants were grown outside, more than an acre would be needed. With environment control, the plants can be grown closer together and are put 18 inches apart in rows 3 feet apart. The greenhouses are 192 by 78 feet in size.

What about the heat in these "hot houses"? Gas is used seven months of the year to maintain a constant daytime temperature of 70 to 80 degrees and a nighttime temperature of 60 to 70 degrees. Eight 120 BTU heaters are in each house, and fans and a ventilation system combat the problem of high humidity.

Since tomato plants can't cry like an infant, an alarm system from the greenhouses to the home is used to warn that the temperature is below the desired level. On occasion, an alarm has rung in the middle of the night telling Thurman Wright his plants are apt to get cold. So, he gets up to see about the plants, while Mrs. Wright checks on their three sons' comfort.

The whole operation of farming these days is done scientifically. For instance, the water gotten from the nearby sources will be cold in winter, so before it is used to irrigate, it is brought up to a 60 degree heat. The top soil is fumigated before the plants are put into it. When the tomatoes bloom, they must be hand pollinated every day. This work, plus pruning, culling and tying the plants keep three hands busy all the time. Additional help is usually needed when it is time to harvest.

From the bloom to the fruit takes 40 to 45 days. Under ordinary conditions, tomatoes in this part of the country aren't harvested until June, but at the present time Wright is in the middle of his harvest. His tomatoes are picked every other day, and at their peak, that is between 1,000

Pacific Hop Is Delayed for a Day

HONOLULU (AP)—Aviatrice Betty Miller has decided to rest another day before continuing her attempt to fly from California to Australia alone in a small plane.

The Santa Monica, Calif., housewife said Thursday that she wanted to get more rest before her pre-dawn take off for Canton Island on the second leg of the 7,000-mile flight Saturday morning.

Mrs. Miller, 37, will fly from Honolulu to Canton, then make a stop at Piji before reaching Brisbane, Australia. She is delivering the twin engine Piper Apache to a buyer in Brisbane.

She is attempting to become the first woman to fly solo from California to Australia.

Philippines Direct Pay Is Blasted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Suggestions that the U.S. Treasury might save $5 million to $25 million by making direct payments to Filipino war damage claimants have been described by Sen. J. William Fulbright as unfounded and irresponsible.

Fulbright said a $1.4 billion supplemental appropriation bill passed by the Senate Wednesday specified that $73 million voted by Congress last year to settle claims growing out of World War II will be paid to the Philippines government in a lump sum.

The provision for the lump sum payment was tacked onto the appropriations bill to prevent a Washington lobbyist who made big 1960 campaign contributions to several candidates from collecting fees from the war damage payments, Fulbright said.

The provision was added at the request of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, headed by Fulbright.

The bill was sent Thursday to a Senate-House conference, but the Philippines issue still may be debated in the House.

Fulbright told the Senate there had been suggestions that if the money is paid to the Philippine government it "will not find its way down to the small claimant."

Such fears, Fulbright said, "are usually voiced by the big claimants—the less than three per cent of the total number of claimants who stand to receive over 330 million" of the $73 million fund.

The Senate would find among the larger claimants "those companies and individuals," Fulbright said, who provided the lobbyist John A. O'Donnell with the $18,000 he used in making 1960 political campaign contributions.

Soviets Reveal Possibility Of Defeat In War

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time, the Soviet Union is frankly facing up to the possibility it could be defeated in a war, an Air Force analyst concludes after a study of Russian military writings.

Further, he finds that the Soviet high command is not of one mind on nuclear age strategy. Russian military conservatives, he says, "regard the nuclear rocket only as a new and important addition to the armament locker."

"The radicals call it 'decisive' in the sense that it reduces, or eliminates, the need for other weapons . . ."

Lt. Col. Murray Green, the Air Force's associate chief of research and analysis, reached these conclusions in an analysis of the first comprehensive discourse on military doctrine to appear in the Soviet Union since 1926.

The book, entitled "Military Strategy," is a compilation of military writings of 15 high-ranking officials, including Soviet Marshal V. D. Sokolovsky, who also was the study's editor.

It was issued last year in a first edition of 20,000 copies, all of which were sold almost immediately.

In his analysis, made available to The Associated Press, Green points out the book is packed with doctrinal contradictions as to the authors' diverse military theories. But, he says, the book must be taken seriously as a reflection of Soviet military thinking "despite its shortcomings."

"Military Strategy" has done more than any other book "to encourage realism in the Soviet Union about nuclear war," writes Green.

It concedes the possibility of civilian casualties "in the tens of millions" and has this to say about battlefield casualties:

"It is possible that entire subdivisions, units and even (army) groups will be destroyed. However, this should not have any bearing on the speed of operations."

Green figures this means "the Soviets expect to fight to win. They have not succumbed to the defeatism which argues that destruction will be so great as to make pointless a need to prosecute the war in the most vigorous way possible."

Feild Speaks at Yerger Assembly

In a special assembly Wednesday, State Representative, Talbot Feild, Jr., was guest speaker. Lawyer Feild, representing the legal profession in Hempstead County, spoke in observance of Law Day, U.S.A. It was an informative address and it was well accepted by all. At the conclusion of his address, Lawyer Feild made a cash donation to the Yerger library.

Thanks to the members of the Dramatics Club and their sponsor, Mrs. Naomi Yerger, for presenting to the school a new RCA tape recorder, two very sensitive microphones and stands for the public address system, and an 8mm Movie Camera. The tape recorder is useful in the English, Music, and Dramatic departments as instructional aids. More than $200 was spent in the purchase of these items.

Open house at the Home Economics Cottage drew a large number of parents, men and women. All girls in these classes had on display dresses and other garments that were made by them. It was inspiring to see the beautiful and well-made wearing apparel there on display.

Parents and friends have an open invitation to visit the school anytime for observation and an opportunity to become better acquainted with the program of the school.

GOP Chief Denies Boom for Romney

By BARRY SCHWID

WASHINGTON (AP) — William E. Miller, Republican national chairman, said today he knows of no concerted drive to boost Michigan Gov. George Romney for the 1964 presidential nomination.

"I'd say he is being considered as well as many other candidates," the New York congressman said in an interview. "Romney himself tried to quash rumors Thursday that friends are quietly putting him forward as the potential Republican candidate in 1964."

"I am not a candidate for president; I am not going to become one," Romney said again and again at a news conference. The governor called in reporters to deny a story in the New York Times that he would be "quietly put forward" at a reception given here Thursday by Mrs. J. Willard Marriott, the Republican national committeewoman for the District of Columbia.

Romney would not go the way of Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman, a Civil War hero who declared in 1864 when boomed for the Republican nomination: "If nominated, I will not accept; if elected, I will not serve."

"I am not a candidate for president," Romney repeated. "I am not going to become one."

He added: "I don't care what the timing is, six months from now or nine months from now, I will say the same thing."

Asked if Romney seemed available for a draft at the Republican convention in 1964, Miller said, "I don't think there is such a thing as a draft." And the GOP chairman added that he doubts Sherman-like statements apply these days.

Romney's case is no different from that of several other prominent Republicans, Miller said. "If any were selected they would run and be willing to serve," he said. Miller likened Romney's situation to that of Republican Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania. Both took over states long held by Democrats and both have been spoken highly of by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Miller said.

A-Bomb for Britain, Says Churchill

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill today strongly urged Britain to keep an independent nuclear deterrent for its own safety and in the interest of world peace.

The former prime minister declared that if Britain gave up such weapons now it never would have a second chance to get back in the nuclear club.

In a message to the Primrose League, a Conservative party group, Churchill, 88, predicted the question of nuclear policy would be one of the great issues in Britain's next national election, due before October 1964.

He must have written that paragraph a little wistfully for Wednesday he announced he would not be a candidate again for the House of Commons where he has sat for more than 60 years.

Stout Hearts Quail as Heroes Meet

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the heroes gathered with the President, the memories came back—of scars and battles, of the friends they saved and the friends they lost.

"It's one of those things you don't talk about," a winner of the Medal of Honor said as he used a cane to get across the White House lawn on one leg. He lost the other in the Mexican War 49 years ago.

They shook hands with President Kennedy, a few in wheelchairs, one with a steel hand Kennedy reached for heartily like all the rest.

Wives had to tell the heroic tales for some. Others could rattle off their citations like serial numbers.

These were America's great heroes—234 of the 290 living winners of the Medal of Honor invited to a lawn party at the White House and a handshake from the President at a traditional reception for 1,600 military men and their wives.

They won their medals in Spanish-American and Mexican wars, the Philippine Insurrection, Boxer Rebellion, two world wars and a "police action" in Korea.

Kennedy, a PT boat hero of World War II himself, paid honor to all of them in a moving ceremony in the Rose Garden outside his office and ventured it was the largest number of Medal of Honor winners ever assembled.

These men, recipients of the highest award the United States can give for military valor, are "our most distinguished American citizens," the President told his guests.

Expressing the country's appreciation, Kennedy said "you represent the strong courage of Americans and their determination to defend their country."

"While all Americans can't win the Medal of Honor, and while all of them can't fight in far-off places, I hope that all are big enough and strong enough and courageous enough to support them," the President added.

The Marine Band played the stirring tunes of fighting men. And the colorful Army ceremonial life and drum unit in colonial dress and sparkling bagpipers added their tunes, including "Yankee Doodle."

From the famous Truman balcony high above, the President's two young children, Caroline, 5, and John Jr., 2½, watched with nurses and playmates. And, the President's brother, Allyn, Gen. Robert F. Kennedy started impromptu tours of the refurbished White House for the heroes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were five Arkansians among Medal of Honor winners honored by President Kennedy Thursday at a reception. They were Richard N. Antrim, Mountain Home, Ark. and Mrs. Antrim; Maurice L. Britt, Fort Smith, Ark. and Mrs. Britt; Daniel R. Edwards, Hot Springs, Ark. and Mrs. Edwards; Nathan G. Gordon, Morrilton, Ark. and Mrs. Gordon and John R. Kane, Barber, Ark. and Mrs. Kane.

Post Office Cut to Be Restored

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee voted today to restore $50 million of the $69.8 million that the House cut from the operations budget of the Post Office Department for the next year.

Senators said they were confident this would make unnecessary any substantial reductions in postal service in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The subcommittee which handles the bill carrying funds for the Post Office and Treasury departments had recommended that $60 million of the House slash be put back.

The full group decided today on $50 million but also agreed that the Senate should insist on this as a rock-bottom figure in the conference with the House and fight for it indefinitely.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day told the subcommittee he might have to eliminate such things as Saturday deliveries and service to new homes and office buildings after July 1 if his department received no more money than the House voted.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, said the bill probably would come up for Senate debate next week.

MALVERN, Ark. (AP)—Sheriff Milburn Gill said Thursday two youths wanted as escapees from the Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala. stockade were arrested at a roadblock on Highway 67 near Malvern. He said the two, Andy Lamar Roten and Fred W. Robinson, both 18, would be held for the FBI.

Chapter XXX

Frances was standing beside me and I could feel her fingers dig into my arm. She looked up into Lieutenant Cash's hard gray eyes.

"I haven't told you the whole truth about things, Lieutenant," she said.

"This is not news to me, Mrs. Terrill," Cash said grimly. "There were certain papers here in my apartment — shall we say letters." Her fingers tightened warningly on my arm. "They were the object of the raid here yesterday. They were taken. I told you I didn't know who the raiders were at the time. But I knew they'd taken those letters and I knew why. They could be used to blackmail General Hooper. You know already, from the Canada day thing, how they could be used. General Hooper had paid my expenses for seven years."

"How does this relate to Dawn?" Nichols interrupted.

"Dawn had found those papers in my bureau some time ago. They explained to her why I haven't allowed her to come home from the convent for a period of seven years."

"Because your lover wouldn't allow anyone to know his identity?" Cash asked.

"Put it that way if you like. When Dennis Hooper was murdered and Mr. Higby was arrested, I think she believed he'd killed Dennis Hooper to get the letters back for me."

"Why would this drive her to despair?" Nichols asked.

"She hates me for being the kind of person she thinks I am," Frances said. "She hates Matthew for being a part of my life. But she's done nothing to make a life for herself, Captain Nichols. She's actually dependent on me and Matthew. If Matthew Higby was guilty of murder, Captain, our world would come to an end."

Nichols nodded. "She hates you, Mrs. Terrill, and yet the only way she knows how to live is to model herself after you."

"How do you mean?" Frances asked, her voice sharp.

"She made what she must have thought of as an advance to Mr. Ryan, didn't she? The only world she can imagine making for herself will be the same kind of thing and she will be punished for it and destroyed. Why go through that? All she has to do is move a couple of inches."

"It would help, wouldn't it, if she knew that concept of her mother's life was wrong?" a new voice said.

We had all been so concentrated in our conversation that we hadn't been aware of a new arrival. It was General Mooper, his jaw set rock hard, but with a tortured look in his eyes.

"Hello, General," Nichols said. "I was glad to hear you were in charge here, Nichols," the General said, in his clipped, precise way. "I was made aware of this tragic situation on the way over. I think I could help."

"How could it help?" Frances said.

"We can't run the risk that it won't help, can we, Mrs. Terrill?" he said. "You see, I know how Captain Nichols works. I — I was once involved in another case of his."

"Ancient history," Nichols said, in an odd voice.

A nerve twitched in the General's cheek. "Captain Nichols once brought me in off the edge — before I knew you, Mrs. Terrill. It was called 'battle fatigue.' But you and I know better, don't we, Mrs. Terrill?"

DOROTHY DIX

MOTHER SHACKLES SON

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I was the happiest girl in the world last January when the man I live proposed marriage. We announced our engagement, set the wedding date for March 21, planned our honeymoon and everything was beautiful. My parents were delighted but when we told his mother, she simply stared at us, then stalked out of the room.

He and she live in a big, gloomy, old-fashioned New York brownstone front furnished just as it was the day she walked in a bride; heavy dark-red velvet draperies, walnut-pannelled halls; ponderous furniture and flowered Brussels carpets. The father, who died two years ago, made his son promise that he would take good care of his mother. A sister passed away soon after. For this reason the son, my ex-fiance, feels duty bound to main with his mother.

She never has approved of me. True, I am divorced and have 5-year-old son, but this is not a crime. My former husband was very cruel which is why the judge gave me custody of the child. He's a darling and I think would have been good for the man I hoped to marry.

After our engagement was announced the mother phoned me that she didn't intend to let her son be a stepfather, then added I had no right to take him away from her. I was crushed when he said he wanted to call off the wedding. He felt terribly to have caused me such humiliation but admitted that his mother was the major problem. February was the longest month I ever experienced, for I truly love this man. He's good, kind and handsome in a dark, dramatic way; extremely cautious; very methodical; over-prudish; highly respected; quite frugal and an introvert; loves classical music and is choosy about his friends. I am an extrovert which may be why we attract one another.

Now we have started going together again. He leads me to believe that if certain problems can be solved we shall eventually marry. Should I see him when he wants to see me, talk when he phones or stop until he can be more definite? We love each other so much we just can't be parted! The crux of the problem is, of course, his mother. She is holding him to the promise he made to his father and won't let him go. He isn't a baby. Please help me handle this problem in a mature way — Distraught

"Dear Distraught: Let go of your man. That is the only way you will ever get him back. He must work out his own destiny. Even if it tears your heart apart, stop seeing him, answering his phone calls or replying to his letters. He should be down on his knees imploring your forgiveness for the unhappiness and humiliation he has caused you.

Until he does, write him off. And then think twice before marrying such a weakling. No matter how loving a wife you may prove, his over-possessive mother will always be lurking in the shadows, waiting for an opportunity to justify her selfishness. And, unless he develops more character than shown to date, he will believe her. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflets, "Broken Romances" and

New Kidnap Charge for Jas. Burton

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Deputy District Attorney H. F. Ahlswede said Thursday papers charging James Burton Ing, 32, with kidnaping under Arkansas law have arrived in Reno.

The kidnap charge against Ing, filed after the abduction of a Little Rock hospital employee, were dropped on a technicality, but Ing remained in Washoe County jail on a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Three persons abducted William Bonds April 22 and seriously wounded him while trying to extort the room number of James Dean Walker, 35, of Reno, charged in the murder of North Little Rock policeman Jerrell Vaughan. Ing maintains he was in Reno at the time of the abduction of Bonds.

asked. "Captain Nichols, I think I can convince the girl. Is there time to tell it twice?" Nichols stared at old ironides for a moment, steadily. "All right, General," he said. "You and Mr. Ryan come with me, I want you, Ryan, because she feels easy with you."

"Mother Complex."

Dear Helen: My girl friend and I are both in our first year at college and have recently gained 10 pounds apiece. We crave sweets, cakes, cookies, ice cream, I love to bake but when I do, I eat up a good part of the cookie dough, cake batter and frosting. Naturally this puts on weight.

We both feel guilty as all get out after our debauches but just can't seem to stay on a diet. Lack of will power is our main hurdle. Have you any suggestions? —Unhappy Co-Eds.

Dear Co-Eds: Compulsive over-eating, like excessive drinking, is often rooted in some hidden fear or problem. How about boy friends — have you any? This could be the cause of your abnormal craving for food. Get to work on your appearance. The first step in the right direction is, of course, a trim figure. You will just have to make up your minds whether you want to be fat and foolish or slim and sensible. Naturally it's much easier to be foolish and perhaps more fun but you could stop baking and thereby remove the compulsion to eat most of that delicious cookie dough and divine icing.

I cannot prescribe a diet but your doctor can and after he tells you what to do and what not to do — you can do it! It's as easy as that. Weight each day. Count your calories. Police each other.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

a great team home = church = baseball and our Laymen's Organization

Christian Home Service Week begins Sunday. And Spiritual Values take on a greater meaning as Laymen's Organizations everywhere set out to get all the families of their respective communities in church together. Then, Mr. and Mrs. join the throng of church-goers this week. Help the men folk to apply some Christian Principles in this effort to solve some of our many human problems... family problems if you please. Do some Golden Rule Living during Christian Home Service Week. Surely no one can afford less, on this occasion, than to honor God with their presence and their prayers. Baseball may be important to a great many people but believe us all people are important with God. He loves them everyone. He placed His church amongst us to serve us all. The church is very special with God. Just remember that He sent Jesus to die for IT and for YOU. He privileged us with home... a great institution. Yours should be Christian if it is to serve the purpose He intended that it should serve. Then wake up! During this week put on righteous armour and make a move, with your whole family, in the direction of your favorite church. Help make Christian Home Service Week a momentous success. Give our laymen proper credit but give God all the glory.

You In The Church
The Church is You — form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

THE CHURCHES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION, THE TRANSFORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for all men to stand up and be counted... to combat Communism on all fronts... to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST ON THE SIDE FOR GOD...

Hope To Measure Their Re-
